

Short Biography of Dr. Susan Timmer

Dr. Susan Timmer is the Director of Mental Health Research and Director of PCIT and PC-CARE Training at the UC Davis Children's Hospital CAARE Center. Dr. Timmer's primary research interests address the treatment effectiveness of dyadic interventions within high-risk contexts, including maltreatment, domestic violence, foster and adoptive care, and maternal depression. Her research has also explored the effects of family violence on children's social-emotional development and parent-child interactions. Much of her recent work has involved evaluating different training models to disseminate and implement dyadic therapies. She is a co-developer of PC-CARE and the principal investigator of multiple programs implementing PC-CARE.
