

Lisa A. Fontes, PhD, is an internationally known expert on child abuse, intimate partner abuse, and sexual violence. As a researcher, activist, expert witness, and author, she works to protect the most vulnerable people from violence. She has written many journal articles and the books:

- Invisible Chains: Overcoming Coercive Control in Your Intimate Relationship,
- Interviewing Clients Across Cultures
- Child Abuse and Culture: Working with Diverse Families

She is a Senior Lecturer II at the University of Massachusetts Amherst in the Department of Interdisciplinary Studies, where she teaches a course on child abuse and another on sexual violence.. She has worked as a family, individual, and group psychotherapist. She has conducted research in Santiago, Chile, and with diverse people in the United States.

Dr. Fontes is a popular conference speaker and workshop facilitator, and blogs for publications including Domesticshelters.org and PsychologyToday.com, where her blog has had almost two million readers. She was on the Board of APSAC for five years and in 2004 won the APSAC Cultural Competence Award.

