Pacific Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers

October 1991

A Message from the President

The PACRAO Pioneers should be hitching their wagon trains and preparing to head toward Utah. Wagonmaster Jeff Tanner and his advance group have signaled us that a wonderful time is prepared for all of us. Further, Char Hamada and her troop have organized a fabulous program including fireside chats for everyone.

In addition to putting final touches on the Utah gathering, the PACRAO Executive Committee was also busy this summer discussing potential sites for future conferences and expanding the concept of the travel grant and fellowship awards for PACRAO members. We also have added a new section in this newsletter to identify members on the move. Please let Joe Frazier know if you or a friend have moved or received a promotion so that we can share the good news with your colleagues.

Lastly, I would like to congratulate Jim Blackburn and Bill Gowler from Cal State-Fullerton and Lew Hamm from De Anza College for hosting a very successful summer seminar in California. I understand over 130 were in attendance. If any other groups would like to host a seminar next summer, please let me know. See you in Utah!

Sincerely,

Christine K. Wilkinson
President

Looking Ahead

All admissions officers and registrars plan ahead. The PACRAO Executive Committee is no exception and its members are working toward planning future conferences that continue to improve year after year.

Plans for the 1992 conference in Phoenix, Arizona are already well underway thanks to the astute organization skills of Local Arrangements Chairperson Cherie H. McGlynn from Central Arizona College, and Program Chairperson Cecilla Rodriguez from Cypress College. The conference site is the beautiful Sheraton Phoenix Hotel. Phoenix in November is ideal!

The 1993 conference will be held at the dazzling John Ascuaga's Nugget Resort in Sparks, Arizona. In 1994 we're going back to Spokane and the Sheraton-Spokane Hotel. Room rates here will astound you. Sites being considered for the 1995 conference are San Francisco, Newport Beach and Palm Springs.

Now you can all "look ahead" and plan to attend.

Summer Success—San Francisco, 1991

The Summer Success Seminar in San Francisco was another success! The seminar was designed for admissions and records staff members. A splendid and well-balanced set of 15 presenters covered sessions on "Moving Up the Ladder," "Creative Budgeting," "Team Building," "Ergonomics," and "Potpourri." There were 137 registered attendees.

The San Francisco Seminar was coordinated by Lew Ham, De Anza College; Pamela Mize, College of Marin; Bill Gowler and Jim Blackburn, California State University-Fullerton.

PACRAO—Salt Lake City—Pioneering Still

The PACRAO Local Arrangements Committee is in the final stages of preparation for the annual conference to be held in Salt Lake City November 3-6. We have mailed the registration materials to each member. If you have received your registration materials, we invite you to complete those forms quickly and return them to Ralph Boren, registration chair, at the University of Utah. If you have not received a registration packet, please contact Ralph immediately and he will be happy to forward materials to you.

Char Hamada and the program committee have done an outstanding job preparing meaningful sessions that are intended to bring us right up to date in each aspect of our profession. We are pleased that Bill Hing, associate professor of law at Stanford University and an immigration law expert, will be our keynote speaker. We are also honored that Steven R. Covey, noted lecturer and author of the current best seller, The Seven Habits of Highly Effective People, will conduct a management seminar on Monday morning.

Lynn Hanson, chair of the Gala Event, has been hard at work preparing an evening of fun that should be attended by everyone. Come feast on barbecue chicken breasts and baby beef ribs with all the trimmings. The Gala will be held across the street from the Marriott Hotel so that those attending are free to come and go at their leisure. We will be drawing for the major prizes at the Gala Event, which will include two round-trip tickets on Delta Airlines anywhere in the continental U.S., and other exciting prizes. Only PACRAO members will be eligible for the prizes, and members must be in attendance at the Gala Event to win.

Winslow Hurst has prepared excellent tour options that are available for conference attendees and their partners. Check the program booklet for an explanation of the options available. We will also have a number of exhibitors in attendance. Emil Hanson has worked closely with the exhibitors to provide an opportunity to meet with those who have products and services related to our profession.

For those of you flying to Salt Lake City, Tom Gourley has made arrangements with Delta Airlines through Murdock Travel for special airline rates.

We encourage all who may be flying to contact Murdock Travel to take advantage of these special rates.

We are excited to have PACRAO in Salt Lake City, "the Crossroads of the West," and look forward to sharing this experience with you the first week in November.

AACRAO Minority Fee Waivers for Dallas Meeting

Applications for waiver of the registration fee for minorities attending their first Annual Meeting will be mailed to contact members in late fall. This fee waiver, signed by the contact member, must be included with the conference registration form and postmarked by March 19, 1992.

Nominations Committee Report

The balloting for positions on the 1991-92 PACRAO Nominations and Elections Committee has been concluded. The committee will meet following the annual conference in Salt Lake City in November to nominate a slate of officers and a slate of N&E candidates for the 1992-93 year. I am pleased to announce that the 1991-92 committee will be made up of the following members:

Matt Telin, University of Idaho, Chair
Christine Wilkinson, Arizona State University, Chair-Elect
Stella L. T. Asahara, University of Hawaii West Oahu
Fred Dear, University of Southern California
Evelyne Glaser, Occidental College
Herman Lee, Palomar Community College
Roger L. Pugh, Eastern Washington University

The alternates are Masa K. Fujitani, University of California Irvine, and Cecilia M. Rodriguez, University of California-Los Angeles.

I would like to thank the members of the 1990-91 Nominations and Elections Committee for their efforts in developing an N&E slate for your consideration. The PACRAO members serving with me on the 1990-91 committee were, John Smith (Chair-elect), Fred Rosmanitz, Rose St. Onge, Roger Swanson, Jesse Welch and Deanna Wong.

I would also like to thank the members who returned ballots for this election. I hope all PACRAO members will help next year's committee by nominating colleagues for officer positions or for the 1992-93 Nominations and Elections Committee.

Matt Telin, Chair
1990 N&E
Committee

Video Interview Service Offered by AACRAO

AACRAO has made arrangements with the Corporate Interviewing Network to allow AACRAO member institutions to request video tape interviews with job applicants. This is a cost-effective way to narrow down a field of applicants to one or two to be brought on campus for a personal interview. The cost will be $100 to place an order and $150 for each tape. The videos can be made in any one of 30 sites nationwide. Complete details may be obtained from the AACRAO Office.

Letters

Dear Editor,

The PACRAO newsletter of July, 1991, included a ballot for the Nominations and Elections Committee and the proposed slate of officers for 1992. While community colleges comprise about 50 percent of PACRAO membership, the ballot listed only one community college nominee out of a field of ten. Furthermore, the slate of nominees for the PACRAO executive committee lists only one community college representative out of five positions.

What's going on?

Through conferences, summer seminars and helpful networking, PACRAO provides some of our best opportunities for professional development. I encourage my colleagues at community colleges to become involved in PACRAO.

Sincerely,
Christine Kerlin
Director of Admissions
Central Oregon Community College

CAUTION

CSU-Fullerton has experienced a rush of activity involving unsolicited service calls for transcript validators. On one occasion it is believed that a machine malfunction may have been fraudulently caused in order to gain control of the machine.

At this time in early August there is no information that would substantiate a charge more serious than consumer fraud. Offenses of a more serious nature are not out of the question.

Colleagues should be inquisitive when repair persons arrive without being called or when one arrives outside the normal service contract requirements.

If you have any concerns about the validity of any CSU-Fullerton documents please do not hesitate to telephone Debra Carlson, Records Supervisor at (714) 773-2346.
